However, there were no women engaged in any communications activity in the 3rd Tank Division, up until two female members in April 1953. In early 1953, two female members of the communications service wearing shoulder communications branch insignia.	25X1 25X1
7.	In the 3rd Tank Division, the lowest echelon having engineer units assigned to it was the regiment. The regiment had an engineer platoon of 40 men. An engineer battalion consisting of about 120 men was assigned to division headquarters. These engineer units concerned themselves chiefly with building bridges in the division's area of responsibility, digging and repairing trenches, laying mine fields, clearing mine fields, and doing minor road repair work.
25X1	1. Comment: This is in answer to the question whether all Soviet tanks, SP guns, and armored cars supplied to the Czech Army are radio equipped.	25X1
